Undergraduate Curriculum Committee
October 6, 2003

Present: Jonathan Parker, David Pearson, Daniel Skubik, John Pate, Erica McLaughlin, Nathan Lewis, Scott Key, Mary Marcinko, Mary Crist, Susanne Reid, Alan Fossett, Dan Wilson, Jeff Lewis, Shawnn Koning, Margie Arnett, Phil Martinez

- The first discussion was regarding the modification of the current Movement Anatomy course (Kin 263) to be two courses. Dave Pearson and Mary Marcinko explained the need to provide more comprehensive instruction for this subject. It was clarified that the additional 3-unit course would replace an existing upper division required elective and thereby maintain the required number of units in the Kinesiology major at 51. This change will also leave the Kinesiology minor at 25 units after one of the required Kinesiology courses are substituted out. After the discussion a motion was made to replace the current Movement Anatomy Course (Kin 263) with two sequential courses (3 units each) at the sophomore level. The motion included the understanding that the course substitutions and titles were still to be worked out with the assistance of the Registrar. The motion was seconded and unanimously carried.

- The second item for discussion was a proposal brought by the School of Christian Ministries to add a new major in Intercultural Studies. Dan Wilson and Jeff Lewis explained the need to provide greater opportunities and more in-depth education in the area of global studies. A description of the new major was provided showing 18 units of lower division requirements, 30 units of upper division requirements and 16 units of practicum. After discussion of the new structure and provided syllabi, as well as the provided rationale, a motion was made and seconded to accept the proposal with the understanding that course numbers would be worked out with the Registrar. The motion was unanimously carried.

- The meeting was adjourned at 4:05 p.m.