- Jonathan Parker opened the meeting in prayer.

- Carl Schafer presented his proposal for a new general education course in Music. A syllabus was provided with the proposal for the Jazz History course
  - In discussion it was suggested that due to the cross cultural aspect of this course the description could be adjusted to reflect the multicultural aspects of the material. It was suggested that this should become an “M” designation course.
  - A recommendation was made to include the “+/−” portion of the grading system in the syllabus.
  - A motion was made, seconded and passed unanimously to approve the proposal with the above two modifications.

- Bruce Stokes presented a proposal for a revision of the Behavioral Science major. This proposal removes the concentration options in the Behavioral Science major and increases the total number of units in the degree. No new courses are needed, and the resulting degree remains a strong multi-discipline Behavioral Science program. A motion was made, seconded and passed unanimously to approve the proposal.

- The meeting was adjourned at 10:56 a.m.
