Within six months prior to admission to sophomore nursing courses, students must provide evidence that they are physically and emotionally able to perform the duties required. A physical examination by a physician or nurse practitioner with information completed on a form provided by the School of Nursing is necessary. The examination includes current immunizations and tests required by the School of Nursing. Forms are available to students after the student has been admitted into the baccalaureate nursing program.

An annual physical examination and tuberculin skin testing must be performed and results submitted before beginning junior and senior level nursing courses.

Other Provisions

- Clinical facilities and agencies have a wide geographical distribution. Students are responsible for providing their own transportation to clinical facilities. Student car pools may or may not be possible; however, some clinical facilities may require that the student have access to an individual car. A valid California driver’s license and proof of auto insurance is required.

- A differentiated tuition plan is required for liability insurance, testing, and other fees.

- Students are required to purchase uniforms, student arm patches, name tags, watch with a second hand, stethoscope, and other equipment as necessary. A list will be provided to the student.

- Students should be aware that the BSN program is a full four years in length. Those with transfer credits will need three years of nursing courses to complete the degree.

- A current American Heart Association Basic Life Support (BLS) for healthcare provider certification is mandatory for all nursing students.

Transfer Students

- All courses accepted in transfer from another university must be equivalent in content and in credit. Students who complete pre-nursing courses from California Baptist University will be given priority for selection into the baccalaureate nursing program.

Academic placement is determined on an individual basis through transcript evaluation. Excelsior College Exams in nursing theory and a challenge procedure for clinical courses is required. Members of the California Baptist University campus community are expected to act in academic matters with the utmost honesty and integrity. Academic matter shall be defined as any activity that may affect a grade or in any way contribute toward the satisfaction of the requirements for graduation without reference to the focus of such activity.

Academic work is evaluated on the assumption that the work presented is the student’s own, unless designated otherwise. Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty or facilitating any such act are violations of the Honor Code and are not acceptable conduct at California Baptist University. Violations of the Honor Code include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, test, or examinations;
2. looking at or copying another student’s test or quiz answers;
3. taking a test or quiz in part or in whole to use or to give others;
4. providing any unauthorized assistance or aid to others in writing papers, taking quizzes, tests, or examinations;
5. dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments;
6. working with others on projects that are meant to be done individually;
7. the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material before such material is revealed or distributed by the instructor;
8. invading or attempting to invade the administrative security maintained for the preparation and storage of quizzes, tests, and/or examinations;
9. the misrepresentation of papers, reports, assignments, or other materials as the product of a student’s sole independent effort, for the purpose of affecting the student’s grade, credit, or status in the University;
10. copying information from a source without proper attribution;
11. taking papers from other students, publications, or the Internet;
12. failing to abide by the instructions of the proctor concerning test-taking procedures and/or engaging in behavior one knows or should reasonably know that one would, by such conduct, obtain an unfair academic advantage; examples include, but are not limited to, talking, laughing, failing to take a seat assignment, failing to adhere to starting and stopping times, or other disruptive activity;
13. offering for course credit one’s own work, but work that one has previously offered for course credit in another course (unless permission to do so has been secured from the instructor in whose course the work is being offered, prior to submission);
14. influencing, or attempting to influence, any University official, faculty, member, graduate student, or employee responsible for processing grades, evaluating students, or maintaining academic records, through the use of bribery, threats, forgery of authorization, or any other means of coercion in order to affect a student’s grade or evaluation;
15. any forgery, alteration, unauthorized possession, or misuse of University documents pertaining to academic records, including, but not limited to, late or retroactive change of course application forms (otherwise known as “add/drop forms”) and late or retroactive withdrawal application forms. Alteration includes, but is not limited to, misuse of University documents pertaining to academic records by means of computer resources or other equipment;
16. witnessing conduct which one knows or should reasonably know is dishonorable and failing to report it within one semester of the occurrence to either the faculty member in whose class the incident occurred or to the Student Services Office.

All violations of the Honor Code must be reported to the Student Services Office. A first incident of violation of the Honor Code is handled at the discretion of the professor and the dean of students. Judicial sanctions for an offense are handled on a case-by-case basis depending on the seriousness of the violation, prior violations, and other factors. Judicial sanctions may include, but are not limited to, loss of a letter grade or failure in the course in which the offense occurred, suspension, and/or expulsion from the University.

A student has the right to appeal sanctions imposed in cases related to violation of the Honor Code. Appeals must be submitted in writing to the Student Services Office within five (5) business days after a sanction has been imposed.

Appeals dealing with sanctions related to course outcomes (e.g. assignments, tests, or course grades) are adjudicated by the provost. Appeals based on a student’s contention of innocence are adjudicated by a judicial review board. Decisions rendered by a judicial review board may be appealed to the vice president for student services.

A student who appeals a decision will be mailed written notification of the progress of the appeal from the dean of students, vice president for student services, or provost within ten (10) business days.
